DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 36-38, 45-46, 48, 51-54 and 56-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Turi '380, as set forth in the first non-final rejection. Note: the channels (52, 53) are interpreted as microplicated because they are used to channel fluids.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 39-44 and 49-50 and 59-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Turi, as set forth in the previous non-final rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 47, 55 and 58 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed June 21, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Turi doesn't disclose microreplicated channels. However, the channels (52, 53) disclosed by Turi are capable of performing the same function as the channels disclosed in the present invention. Thus, the examiner interpreted the channels disclosed by Turi as microreplicated channels. Applicant argues that Turi doesn't disclose at least one fluid control film components having at least one microstructure-bearing surface with a plurality of microreplicated channels that extends along the microstructure-bearing surface. However, Turi discloses at least one fluid control film component 50 that has at least one microstructure-bearing surface (the surface of film bearing perforations), with a plurality of microreplicated channels (52, 53).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
